Social Work - Undergraduate (SSWU)

Courses

SSWU 0822. Human Behavior and the Photographic Image. 3 Credit Hours.
How do photographs become more than just a pile of disparate images? Is there more to photography than that single “decisive moment” in the hunt and capture of an image? How do photographers comment on issues that are important to them? How can photographs tell a story? Is there a way one can use the art of photography to illicit change? In this class, students will use their digital cameras to investigate individual photographs, as well as series of photographs. We will look at photography in its historical context - at the advent of documentary photography and photojournalism, and at narrative photography in its more contemporary form, as photographers use it to visualize their own lives and to tell a story. Through the exercises of looking at and making photographic images, several core concepts of social work, along with theories of human behavior in the social environment, will be introduced. Students will learn not only about the place photography holds in our culture, but our culture itself, and the students’ place in that culture. Students will critically analyze published photographs, as well as photographs made during the class. The semester will culminate in a class exhibition where students will be given the opportunity to present their photographs to the public, demonstrating their understanding of human behavior in the social environment. NOTE: This course fulfills the Human Behavior (GB) requirement for students under GenEd and Individual & Society (IN) for students under Core. Students cannot receive credit for this course if they have successfully completed GAD 0822.
Course Attributes: GB
Repeatability: This course may not be repeated for additional credits.

SSWU 1001. Introduction to Social Welfare and Human Services. 3 Credit Hours.
The course provides an opportunity for students to test their interest in the social work profession by introducing them to the wide range of areas in which social workers practice and the skills, knowledge, and values required in each area. Topics covered include: the history of social welfare, the profession of social work, generalist social work practice, poverty and public welfare, emotional/behavioral problems and counseling, family problems and services to families, sexual orientation, sexual concerns, and sex counseling, drug abuse and drug treatment programs, crime, juvenile delinquency, and correctional services, issues in education and school social work, social work in the workplace, racism, ethnocentrism, sexism, aging and gerontological services, health and medical social services, physical and mental disabilities, mental retardation, and family planning. NOTE: Open to non-majors, majors and minors.
Repeatability: This course may not be repeated for additional credits.

SSWU 1002. Communication in Social Work Practice. 3 Credit Hours.
Communication is a major component of all social work practice across all systems levels. This course provides students with opportunities to develop knowledge, values and skills necessary for effective communication in social work practice with individuals, families, groups, communities, organizations and in policy arenas. Verbal, non-verbal and written communication skills are essential for effective social work practice. Understanding and application of these communication skills are stressed in this course. NOTE: Open to majors and minors.
Field of Study Restrictions: Must be enrolled in one of the following Fields of study: Social Work - Undergraduate
Repeatability: This course may not be repeated for additional credits.

SSWU 2003. The History and Values of Social Welfare. 3 Credit Hours.
This course provides an overview of the events that have influenced the provision of social services to people in the United States. The course considers the historical, political, economic, and cultural contexts in which social work and social welfare policy have evolved. Important historical events include: The Elizabethan Poor Laws, the Progressive Era, the Great Depression, New Deal, Social Security Act, Civil Rights Movement, War on Poverty, the Reagan Revolution, and the policies of the Clinton, Bush and Obama administrations. The course considers the unique characteristics of the welfare system in the United States and compares it to systems in other countries. It also identifies current dilemmas facing the welfare state and efforts to further decrease the role of the federal government in social welfare programs. NOTE: (1) Open to majors and minors. (2) This course can be used to satisfy the university Core American Culture (AC) requirement. Although it may be usable towards graduation as a major requirement or university elective, it cannot be used to satisfy any of the university GenEd requirements. See your advisor for further information.
Field of Study Restrictions: Must be enrolled in one of the following Fields of study: Social Work - Undergraduate
Course Attributes: AC
Repeatability: This course may not be repeated for additional credits.

SSWU 2004. Social Welfare in the United States. 3 Credit Hours.
This course is the second half of a two-course sequence concerned with social welfare policy. The course is centered on the analysis of social problems and social policies in the United States. It addresses competing values, interest groups, conceptual approaches and processes involved in policymaking including implementation and evaluation. The course considers the ways in which policymakers have addressed human needs in specific areas. Topics include: different ways of defining poverty; the two major forms of income maintenance in the United States (social insurance and public assistance); health (both biomedical and social); substance abuse, hunger, and the service needs of children, older people, and those with disordered mental states. NOTE: Open to majors and minors.
Field of Study Restrictions: Must be enrolled in one of the following Fields of study: Social Work - Undergraduate
Repeatability: This course may not be repeated for additional credits
Pre-requisites:
SSWU 2003|Minimum Grade of C-|May not be taken concurrently.
SSWU 3000. Special Topics in Social Work. 1 to 3 Credit Hour.
This course is designed to explore contemporary issues in social work practice. The design of this course provides students with an opportunity to develop knowledge of specific emerging and current social work issues or specific social work practice topics. The variable course credit allows instructors to design a wide range of courses that focus on diverse topics relevant for social work students.

Repeatability: This course may be repeated for additional credit.

SSWU 3005. Helping Processes in Social Work I. 3 Credit Hours.
In this course, students are introduced to the value base, knowledge and skills of the social work profession as well as the importance of the interplay between the individual and the social environment. The course introduces students to the generalist model of social work practice, which includes practice with individuals, families, groups, communities, and organizations. It explores theories, skills, values and professional self development in community practice and issues that affect service delivery, such as racism, sexism, heterosexism and classism. Focus is placed on populations at risk, diversity, and issues of social and economic justice as they relate to work with clients, the social service delivery system, and society as a whole. Students will begin to examine their own abilities for social work as a discipline and a career and also engage in community and agency experiences outside of class. NOTE: Open to majors and minors.

Field of Study Restrictions: Must be enrolled in one of the following Fields of study: Social Work - Undergraduate

Class Restrictions: May not be enrolled in one of the following: Freshman 0 to 29 Credits

Co-requisites: SSWU 3015

Repeatability: This course may not be repeated for additional credits

Pre-requisites:
(PSY 1061|Minimum Grade of C-|May not be taken concurrently
OR PSY 1001|Minimum Grade of C-|May not be taken concurrently)
AND (SOC 1176|Minimum Grade of C-|May not be taken concurrently).

SSWU 3006. Helping Processes in Social Work II. 3 Credit Hours.
This course builds upon the beginning foundation of professional social work introduced in Social Work 3005. The focus of this continuing course, however, is on individual, family and group practice. The course continues to examine the forms of oppression and injustice, populations at risk, diversity and human rights as they relate to work with people in client status, the social service delivery system, and society as a whole. NOTE: Open to majors and minors.

Field of Study Restrictions: Must be enrolled in one of the following Fields of study: Social Work - Undergraduate

Co-requisites: SSWU 3016

Repeatability: This course may not be repeated for additional credits

Pre-requisites:
SSWU 3005|Minimum Grade of C-|May not be taken concurrently.

SSWU 3007. Human Behavior in the Social Environment. 3 Credit Hours.
This course is designed to explore the theoretical knowledge base of social work in relation to human behavior and human development within the context of the social environment. The theories of human behavior that undergird the practice of social work are presented. The course also explores the role of human behavior theory, its limitations and strengths and contribution to our knowledge of human development and human behavior throughout the life course. The person-in-environment perspective is given special emphasis. The mutual influence of transactions between individuals, families, communities, social institutions and societies are explored using a social systems perspective. Interrelationships among biological, psychological, social and cultural systems as they affect and are affected by human behavior are studied using a number of interdisciplinary theoretical approaches such as systems theory, concepts from ego psychology and role theory. NOTE: (1) Biology 1001, Kinesiology 1223, Psychology 1061 & Sociology 1176 are listed as both prerequisites & co-requisites because they may be taken as either. Open to majors & minors. (2) This course can be used to satisfy the university Core Individual & Society (IN) requirement. Although it may be usable towards graduation as a major requirement or university elective, it cannot be used to satisfy any of the university GenEd requirements. See your advisor for further information.

Field of Study Restrictions: Must be enrolled in one of the following Fields of study: Social Work - Undergraduate

Course Attributes: IN

Repeatability: This course may not be repeated for additional credits

Pre-requisites:
(BIOL 1001|Minimum Grade of C-|May be taken concurrently
OR KINS 1223|Minimum Grade of C-|May be taken concurrently)
AND ((PSY 1061|Minimum Grade of C-|May be taken concurrently
AND SOC 1176|Minimum Grade of C-|May be taken concurrently)).
SSWU 3009. Human Behavior and the Social Environment: Communities and Organizations. 3 Credit Hours.
This course examines the practice of social service delivery within its organizational and environmental contexts. Social services are delivered within organizations that have varying degrees of economic, political and cultural complexity. Professional and organizational values and expectations are constantly in dynamic tension with each other. The course explores the impact of these tensions on the quality and quantity of services and addresses the professional social worker's role as a proactive force partnering with clients to advocate for services and systems improvement.

Field of Study Restrictions: Must be enrolled in one of the following Majors: Social Work - Undergraduate

Degree Restrictions: Must be enrolled in one of the following Degrees: Bachelor of Social Work

Repeatability: This course may not be repeated for additional credits

Pre-requisites:
(SSWU 1001|Minimum Grade of C-|May not be taken concurrently
AND SSWU 1002|Minimum Grade of C-|May not be taken concurrently
AND SSWU 2003|Minimum Grade of C-|May not be taken concurrently
AND SSWU 2004|Minimum Grade of C-|May not be taken concurrently
AND SSWU 3005|Minimum Grade of C-|May not be taken concurrently
AND SSWU 3006|Minimum Grade of C-|May not be taken concurrently
AND SSWU 3016|Minimum Grade of C-|May not be taken concurrently).

SSWU 3010. Special Topics in Social Work. 1 to 3 Credit Hour.
This course is designed to explore contemporary issues in social work practice. The design of this course provides students with an opportunity to develop knowledge of specific emerging and current social work issues or specific social work practice topics. The variable course credit allows instructors to design a wide range of courses that focus on diverse topics relevant for social work students.

Repeatability: This course may be repeated for additional credit.

SSWU 3011. The Social Worker in the Group. 3 Credit Hours.
This course examines the dynamics of the small group. Different theoretical conceptualizations of the role of the social worker in the group are discussed. Concepts such as group norms, roles and leadership are examined. There is a special focus on work with community groups.

Class Restrictions: May not be enrolled in one of the following: Freshman 0 to 29 Credits

Repeatability: This course may not be repeated for additional credits.

SSWU 3015. Lab for Helping Processes in Social Work I. 1 Credit Hour.
Students will experience several field experiences through which they can engage in selective service tasks, develop an understanding of human service organizations and of the social service delivery system. Through these experiences they will have the opportunity to test their own suitability for social work as a career.

Field of Study Restrictions: Must be enrolled in one of the following Fields of study: Social Work - Undergraduate

Class Restrictions: May not be enrolled in one of the following: Freshman 0 to 29 Credits

Co-requisites: SSWU 3005

Repeatability: This course may not be repeated for additional credits

Pre-requisites:
(PSY 1061|Minimum Grade of C-|May not be taken concurrently
OR PSY 1001|Minimum Grade of C-|May not be taken concurrently)
AND (SOC 1176|Minimum Grade of C-|May not be taken concurrently).

SSWU 3016. Lab for Helping Processes in Social Work II. 1 Credit Hour.
Students will arrange a service learning experience through Temple University's Office of Community Service. Through this experience students will begin to develop an understanding of the social service delivery system at multiple levels, as they engage in selected service tasks and continue to assess their own suitability for social work as a career.

Co-requisites: SSWU 3006

Repeatability: This course may not be repeated for additional credits

Pre-requisites:
SSWU 3005|Minimum Grade of C-|May not be taken concurrently.

SSWU 3096. Institutional Racism. 3 Credit Hours.
This course is designed to introduce and sensitize students to the forms, practices and effects of racism. The course will examine the historical foundations of racism as an ideology; various racial theories and theories of racism; and the practices that perpetuate institutional systems which continue to limit the opportunities afforded to persons of color. Specifically, we will emphasize the role of institutional racism in education, human services, housing, law, business and prisons. The complex interplay among racism and other institutionalized systems of oppression (e.g., sexism, ageism, heterosexism, ethnocentrism, anti-Semitism, etc.) will be explored throughout the semester. NOTE: This is a writing intensive course.

Department restrictions: Must be enrolled in one of the following Departments: CPH: Social Work

Field of Study Restrictions: Must be enrolled in one of the following Majors: Social Work - Undergraduate

Level Registration Restrictions: Must be enrolled in one of the following Levels: Undergraduate

Course Attributes: WI

Repeatability: This course may not be repeated for additional credits.
SSWU 4000. Special Topics in Social Work. 1 to 3 Credit Hour.
This "special topics" course category can explore a range of issue areas of importance to social work and give students an opportunity to study topics that are not a standard part of the curriculum. Each semester, an instructor can create a course in an area they see as particularly relevant. For example, for fall of 2010, Dr. Schofield will be offering a 3 credit online course in social innovation and social change. The course will focus on individuals whose idea about how to improve a situation, and commitment to seeing it implemented, has brought about a substantial change in the way things are done resulting in an increase in the quality of life (and sometimes a dramatic decrease in suffering). This course will include international, national and local examples of individuals who have made a positive difference in the world through their innovation and resolve. Each student will identify, analyze, and present a case study of an individual that has significantly changed "business as usual" through her or his innovation in the Greater Philadelphia region. Students are encouraged to use a video clip they created about their case in their presentation. A Flip camera can be loaned for this purpose. Students will also explore what is needed to actualize further their own potential for leadership. This course meets the social work elective requirement. Students who are seriously interested in this content will need to meet with the professor to obtain authorization to register. The class is limited to 20 people and will require attendance at weekly virtual classes.

Repeatability: This course may be repeated for additional credit.

SSWU 4001. Seminar in Social Work Practice. 3 Credit Hours.
This course is the first semester of a two-semester integrative practice course for senior social work majors. Students use the seminar format to learn empowerment based social work practice skills and to apply the social work curricular areas of human behavior in the social environment, social welfare policy, and research. The rich liberal arts background acquired from the Core or General Education curriculum and the content of the professionally related courses are used to inform social work practice. An important focus of the senior seminar is the agency environment in which the students practice. The formal and informal systems in which students do their fieldwork comprise the foci of the senior seminar classes. The classroom instructor is the liaison for the students' fieldwork agencies. This maximizes the opportunity to create an intense, supportive and integrative educational experience. Students stay in the same section and field agency throughout both fall and spring semesters. Previously acquired skills are enhanced while new skills are developed so that students acquire the competencies for beginning generalist social work practice at all levels with systems of all sizes. NOTE: SSWU 3008 (Institutional Racism) is listed as a prerequisite and a co-requisite because it may be taken as either. It is recommended students take it before entering Senior Seminar but if this is not possible, it may be taken in the Fall semester of senior year.

Field of Study Restrictions: Must be enrolled in one of the following Majors: Social Work - Undergraduate
Class Restrictions: Must be enrolled in one of the following Classes: Senior 90 to 119 Credits, Senior/Fifth Year 120+ Credits
Co-requisites: SSWU 4396
Repeatability: This course may not be repeated for additional credits

Pre-requisites:
(SSWU 1002 | Minimum Grade of C- | May not be taken concurrently)
AND SSWU 2003 | Minimum Grade of C- | May not be taken concurrently
AND SSWU 2004 | Minimum Grade of C- | May not be taken concurrently
AND SSWU 3005 | Minimum Grade of C- | May not be taken concurrently
AND SSWU 3006 | Minimum Grade of C- | May not be taken concurrently
AND SSWU 3007 | Minimum Grade of C- | May not be taken concurrently

SSWU 4002. Seminar in Social Work Practice. 3 Credit Hours.
This course is the second semester of a two-semester integrative practice course for senior social work majors. Students use the seminar format to learn empowerment based social work practice skills and to apply the social work curricular areas of human behavior in the social environment, social welfare policy, and research. The rich liberal arts background acquired from the Core or General Education curriculum and the content of the professionally related courses are used to inform social work practice. An important focus of both the senior seminar (Social Work 4001 [4096/W285]), and of course Social Work 3009 (0280) (Patterns of Service Delivery), is the agency environment in which the students practice. The realities of the formal and informal systems in which students do their fieldwork comprise the foci of the senior seminar classes. The classroom instructor is the liaison for the students’ fieldwork agencies. This maximizes the opportunity to create an intense, supportive and integrative educational experience. Students stay in the same section and field agency throughout both fall and spring semesters. Previously acquired skills are enhanced while new skills are developed so that students acquire the competencies for beginning generalist social work practice at all levels with systems of all sizes.

Field of Study Restrictions: Must be enrolled in one of the following Fields of study: Social Work - Undergraduate
Class Restrictions: Must be enrolled in one of the following Classes: Senior 90 to 119 Credits, Senior/Fifth Year 120+ Credits
Repeatability: This course may not be repeated for additional credits

Pre-requisites:
SSWU 4001 | Minimum Grade of C- | May not be taken concurrently.
SSWU 4187. Social Work Field Practicum I. 5 Credit Hours.
This first semester of a two semester practicum offers the opportunity to practice social work in selected social agencies. The student spends 200 supervised hours in the field. This generalist experience provides students the opportunity to apply the knowledge, skills, and values learned in research, policy, human behavior, and practice classes. It allows them to connect social work theory with practice and to develop increasing depth in knowledge and skills. These include the development of communication, problem-solving and networking skills within various focal systems and demonstration of purposeful use of self within a culturally competent empowerment model of practice. NOTE: For details on field placement process, refer to the Field Education Manual available from the Field Education Office.
Co-requisites: SSWU 4001, SSWU 4396
Repeatability: This course may be repeated for additional credit.
Pre-requisites:
(SSWU 4001|Minimum Grade of C-|May not be taken concurrently
AND SSWU 4396|Minimum Grade of C-|May not be taken concurrently).

SSWU 4287. Social Work Field Practicum II. 5 Credit Hours.
This second semester of a two semester practicum offers the opportunity to practice social work in selected social agencies. The student spends 200 supervised hours in the field. This generalist experience provides students the opportunity to apply the knowledge, skills, and values learned in Research, Policy, Human Behavior, and Practice classes. It allows them to connect social work theory with practice and to develop increasing depth in knowledge and skills. These include the development of communication, problem-solving and networking skills within various focal systems and demonstration of purposeful use of self within a culturally competent empowerment model of practice.
Co-requisites: SSWU 4002, SSWU 4397
Repeatability: This course may be repeated for additional credit.
Pre-requisites:
(SSWU 4001|Minimum Grade of C-|May not be taken concurrently
AND SSWU 4187|Minimum Grade of C-|May not be taken concurrently
AND SSWU 4396|Minimum Grade of C-|May not be taken concurrently).

SSWU 4301. Women and Social Policy. 3 Credit Hours.
This course examines policy issues that have a major influence on the agency and well-being of women. It identifies values, attitudes, and belief systems about females that have contributed both to the problems women and girls experience and to the conceptualization and implementation of related policy responses in political, social, and economic areas. Policy areas covered include: economic status, labor force participation, family, caregiving, reproduction, substance abuse, violence, health, mental health, and international issues affecting women.
Field of Study Restrictions: Must be enrolled in one of the following Fields of study: Social Work - Undergraduate
Class Restrictions: Must be enrolled in one of the following Classes: Junior 60 to 89 Credits, Senior 90 to 119 Credits, Senior/Fifth Year 120+ Credits
Repeatability: This course may not be repeated for additional credits.

SSWU 4302. Emotional Disorders in Children and Adolescents. 3 Credit Hours.
Provides students with a knowledge base in emotional and behavioral difficulties of children and adolescents from the perspective of social work. Students will become familiar with the current literature in the field of child mental health. This includes knowledge about specific emotional and behavioral problems, theoretical perspectives for understanding child mental health and populations at risk, and current practices with children and families.
Field of Study Restrictions: Must be enrolled in one of the following Fields of study: Social Work - Undergraduate
Class Restrictions: Must be enrolled in one of the following Classes: Junior 60 to 89 Credits, Senior 90 to 119 Credits, Senior/Fifth Year 120+ Credits
Repeatability: This course may not be repeated for additional credits.

SSWU 4303. Social Work with the Homeless. 3 Credit Hours.
This course provides a framework for the analysis of social policies and programs related to the social problems of homelessness in the United States. Although the focus of the course is on contemporary issues of homelessness, the approach includes an historical perspective in order to explore the enduring legacy of early interventions and approaches to the relief and social control of marginalized populations. The implications of differing viewpoints and alternative problem definitions for policy and service delivery are considered. The course explores shifts in housing policies. Additionally, employment programs are discussed in some detail to demonstrate their impact on the increasing numbers of Americans who are homeless.
Field of Study Restrictions: Must be enrolled in one of the following Fields of study: Social Work - Undergraduate
Class Restrictions: Must be enrolled in one of the following Classes: Junior 60 to 89 Credits, Senior 90 to 119 Credits, Senior/Fifth Year 120+ Credits
Repeatability: This course may not be repeated for additional credits.
SSWU 4304. HIV/AIDS and Social Work: Prevention and Practice. 3 Credit Hours.
This course provides a comprehensive overview of HIV/AIDS, including biomedical, psychological, sociological, and global considerations for prevention and care. The course is intended to familiarize students with current knowledge for culturally competent direct social work practice with HIV-positive individuals and their families. In addition, attention is focused on organizational, community and policy level responses to AIDS. Specific topics include medical and cultural origins of HIV; multi-level prevention strategies and barriers to their enactment, including stigma; legal and ethical aspects of prevention, testing, and treatment; psychosocial issues for families of HIV-positive persons, including the implications of grieving, death, and dying; clinical skills in assisting HIV-positive clients/patients; ways to assess comprehensiveness of services offered in and for varying communities; social workers’ varying roles in responding to AIDS as a social and health problem; and, current research and policy implications of the illness. NOTE: Includes a minimum of 12 hours of volunteer work related to HIV/AIDS.
Field of Study Restrictions: Must be enrolled in one of the following Fields of study: Social Work - Undergraduate
Class Restrictions: Must be enrolled in one of the following Classes: Junior 60 to 89 Credits, Senior 90 to 119 Credits, Senior/Fifth Year 120+ Credits
Repeatability: This course may not be repeated for additional credits.

SSWU 4305. Health Care Policy. 3 Credit Hours.
This course traces the evolution of health care policy in the United States and the changing roles of social workers in health care over time. A range of specific issues are discussed including access to care, quality of care, cost and financing of care as well as specific topics such as health disparities, AIDS, homelessness, and health care in prisons. The course also considers the way selected other countries have organized their health systems, the values that have informed their decisions, and the trade-offs reflected.
Field of Study Restrictions: Must be enrolled in one of the following Fields of study: Social Work - Undergraduate
Class Restrictions: Must be enrolled in one of the following Classes: Junior 60 to 89 Credits, Senior 90 to 119 Credits, Senior/Fifth Year 120+ Credits
Repeatability: This course may not be repeated for additional credits.

SSWU 4306. Child Welfare Policy. 3 Credit Hours.
This course will explore the historical, philosophical, legal, social, political, and economic influences on the development of child welfare services. Selected aspects of children’s lives will be examined to understand and analyze the state of children in the United States and the effects of state intervention in the lives of children and their families. A range of services from family supports to foster care, kinship care, adoption, and family preservation will be examined. Issues of access and equity, gender, differential needs and treatment of children based on race, socioeconomic status, and family type will frame the analyses. Comparisons between the U.S. and other countries will be made to address changes for the future.
Field of Study Restrictions: Must be enrolled in one of the following Fields of study: Social Work - Undergraduate
Class Restrictions: Must be enrolled in one of the following Classes: Junior 60 to 89 Credits, Senior 90 to 119 Credits, Senior/Fifth Year 120+ Credits
Repeatability: This course may not be repeated for additional credits.

SSWU 4307. Alcohol and Substance Abuse. 3 Credit Hours.
This course provides students with current information about alcohol and other substance abuse. Using ecosystems and family systems frameworks, information is presented regarding the bio-psycho-social impact of alcohol and other substance abuse on individual and family functioning. Particular attention is given to treatment options and resources for change.
Field of Study Restrictions: Must be enrolled in one of the following Fields of study: Social Work - Undergraduate
Class Restrictions: Must be enrolled in one of the following Classes: Junior 60 to 89 Credits, Senior 90 to 119 Credits, Senior/Fifth Year 120+ Credits
Repeatability: This course may not be repeated for additional credits.

SSWU 4308. Social Transformation. 3 Credit Hours.
An exploration of theories of social transformation with particular focus on analyzing and addressing societal oppression and injustice. Course topics include dynamics of empowerment and self-determination, social movements and collective action, and the risks and rewards of being a change agent. Emphasis is on participatory learning and practical application in social work and human service settings.
Field of Study Restrictions: Must be enrolled in one of the following Fields of study: Social Work - Undergraduate
Class Restrictions: Must be enrolled in one of the following Classes: Junior 60 to 89 Credits, Senior 90 to 119 Credits, Senior/Fifth Year 120+ Credits
Repeatability: This course may not be repeated for additional credits.

SSWU 4309. Societal Responses to Aging. 3 Credit Hours.
Explores public and private resources, the need for social and political action, the network of services to meet the needs of individuals and their families, present policies and practice in income maintenance, health, housing, safety, and social status. Public-private sponsorship, cost, accountability, benefit levels and administration. Student social action projects completed and expanded.
Field of Study Restrictions: Must be enrolled in one of the following Fields of study: Social Work - Undergraduate
Class Restrictions: Must be enrolled in one of the following Classes: Junior 60 to 89 Credits, Senior 90 to 119 Credits, Senior/Fifth Year 120+ Credits
Repeatability: This course may not be repeated for additional credits.

SSWU 4311. Law and Practice of Human Services. 3 Credit Hours.
This course provides an introduction to the law as it affects the human services professional and the practice of social work. The course provides an overview of major areas of the law as they relate to juveniles, families, and the elderly. It also includes a review of professional responsibilities including informed consent, privileged communication, malpractice laws and the building of effective social work/legal terms.
Field of Study Restrictions: Must be enrolled in one of the following Fields of study: Social Work - Undergraduate
Class Restrictions: Must be enrolled in one of the following Classes: Senior 90 to 119 Credits, Senior/Fifth Year 120+ Credits
Repeatability: This course may not be repeated for additional credits.
SSWU 4312. Loss and Grief. 3 Credit Hours.
The dynamics of loss, the stress of grief and mourning, societal attitudes about death, and cultural variations in dealing with loss and bereavement practices. To help students explore and examine personal meanings about loss and to prepare students to be responsive and helpful as social workers working with those experiencing loss and grief. Class sessions combine cognitive and experiential material.

Field of Study Restrictions: Must be enrolled in one of the following Fields of study: Social Work - Undergraduate

Repeatability: This course may not be repeated for additional credits.

SSWU 4382. Independent Study in Social Welfare. 1 to 6 Credit Hour.
A program developed by instructor and student to permit the study of issues of interest to the student and relevant to social welfare and social work. Students must meet with the faculty member within the first week of the term and agree on: the topic area(s), readings, graded assignments, and due dates. NOTE: Registration for this course requires prior consent from the faculty member with whom the student wishes to study. The academic advisor will register the student once the professor has agreed and the student communicates this information to the advisor. Study plan must be submitted and approved by the instructor and the Director of the BSW Program.

Field of Study Restrictions: Must be enrolled in one of the following Fields of study: Social Work - Undergraduate

Repeatability: This course may be repeated for additional credit.

SSWU 4396. Introduction to Social Research. 3 Credit Hours.
An introduction to the philosophy, concepts, principles, and methods of empirical research in the social and behavioral sciences. Characteristic stages and formats of social research are reviewed, with the primary aim of developing beginning competence in the critical assessment of published research and use of research techniques.

Co-requisites: SSWU 4001

Course Attributes: WI

Repeatability: This course may not be repeated for additional credits

Pre-requisites:
PSY 1167|Minimum Grade of C-|May not be taken concurrently
OR MATH 1013|Minimum Grade of C-|May not be taken concurrently
OR SOC 1167|Minimum Grade of C-|May not be taken concurrently
OR STAT 2101|Minimum Grade of C-|May not be taken concurrently.

SSWU 4397. Evaluating Programs and Practice in Social Work. 3 Credit Hours.
This course is designed to introduce students to the range of activities and methods included in program evaluation. These will be examined in the larger context within which programs exist, the specific stage of program development and the ends to which information is to be used. Students will learn: the historical context of accountability and development of program evaluation; the nature, substance and role of evaluation research; the inherent and contextual constraints and potentialities of program evaluation; the role and use of program evaluation in relation to planning, administration, and social policy; the relationship between program evaluation and practice at the individual and program levels; and the options available in doing program evaluation.

Co-requisites: SSWU 4002, SSWU 4287

Course Attributes: WI

Repeatability: This course may not be repeated for additional credits

Pre-requisites:
(SSWU 4001|Minimum Grade of C-|May not be taken concurrently
AND SSWU 4187|Minimum Grade of C-|May not be taken concurrently
AND SSWU 4396|Minimum Grade of C-|May not be taken concurrently).

SSWU 4407. Evaluating Programs and Practice in Social Work. 3 Credit Hours.
This course is designed to introduce students to the range of activities and methods included in program evaluation. These will be examined in the larger context within which programs exist, the specific stage of program development and the ends to which information is to be used. Students will learn: the historical context of accountability and development of program evaluation; the nature, substance and role of evaluation research; the inherent and contextual constraints and potentialities of program evaluation; the role and use of program evaluation in relation to planning, administration, and social policy; the relationship between program evaluation and practice at the individual and program levels; and the options available in doing program evaluation.

Degree Restrictions: Must be enrolled in one of the following Degrees: Bachelor of Social Work

Co-requisites: SSWU 4002, SSWU 4287

Repeatability: This course may not be repeated for additional credits

Pre-requisites:
(SSWU 3009|Minimum Grade of C-|May not be taken concurrently
AND SSWU 4001|Minimum Grade of C-|May not be taken concurrently
AND SSWU 4396|Minimum Grade of C-|May not be taken concurrently
AND SSWU 4187|Minimum Grade of C-|May not be taken concurrently).
SSWU 4482. Independent Study in Social Work. 1 to 6 Credit Hour.
A program developed by instructor and student to permit the study of issues of interest to the student and relevant to social welfare and social work. Students must meet with the faculty member within the first week of the term and agree on: the topic area(s), readings, graded assignments, and due dates. NOTE: Registration for this course requires prior consent from the faculty member with whom the student wishes to study. The academic advisor will register the student once the professor has agreed and the student communicates this information to the advisor. Study plan must be submitted and approved by the instructor and the BSW Director.

Field of Study Restrictions: Must be enrolled in one of the following Fields of study: Social Work - Undergraduate

Repeatability: This course may be repeated for additional credit.