Tourism and Hospitality Management, M.T.H.M.

About the Program

The goal of the M.T.H.M. graduate program in Tourism and Hospitality Management is to develop advanced professionals in the field of tourism and hospitality management. Education should enable professionals in this field to be expert managers, marketers, and planners in the public, private, and commercial sectors. The program prepares students to be middle-level and, eventually, upper-level managers in the tourism and hospitality industry. The degree program is based not only on the practical application of management techniques, but also on the theoretical foundation that defines the profession. This makes the degree program clearly distinct from generic management curricula that do not include an industry-specific core.

Students interested in studying at the doctoral level should refer to the Ph.D. program in Business Administration with a concentration in Tourism/Sport offered by the Fox School of Business and Management.

Time Limit for Degree Completion: 4 years

Campus Location: Main, with business electives offered at the Fort Washington, Ambler, or Center City campuses, or online

Full-Time/Part-Time Status: The degree program can be completed on a full- or part-time basis.

Interdisciplinary Study: The program encourages interdisciplinary coursework, research, and interactions among faculty and students with interest in management, information technology, and research.

Study Abroad: Students who wish to do their internships abroad work closely with the Center for Student Professional Development, which assists with the necessary contacts and supervision.

Ranking: While formal ranking of academic programs in Tourism and Hospitality Management is not done, the program at Temple University has received national recognition as a program combining tourism and hospitality management.

Areas of Specialization: Two concentrations are offered:

- Hospitality Operations Management
- Tourism and Hospitality Marketing

Job Prospects: Students typically find placements in convention and visitor bureaus, event management companies, convention centers, hotels, and resorts.

Non-Matriculated Student Policy: Students who are not eligible for admission may take up to 9 s.h. of coursework on a non-matriculated basis. If accepted into the program, the courses may be approved toward the degree program.

Financing Opportunities: Teaching and Research Assistantships and Graduate Externships within the School of Tourism and Hospitality Management are reserved for students who are capable of teaching undergraduate classes in specialized academic areas or assisting in faculty research. TAs, RAs, and GEs are expected to provide 20 hours per week of service throughout the academic year. A 9-month stipend is offered along with full (9 s.h.) tuition remission for the Fall and Spring terms. Applications for assistantships and externships are not evaluated until a Graduate School application and all appropriate materials have been received. Assistantships and externships are available only to admitted students. The evaluation of applicants for Teaching and Research Assistantships and Graduate Externships begins by March and continues until all positions have been filled.

Admission Requirements and Deadlines

Application Deadline:

Fall: March 1

Applications are processed as they arrive through the deadline. Late applications may be considered for admission.

APPLY ONLINE to this graduate program.

Letters of Reference:

Number Required: 2

From Whom: Letters of recommendation should be requested from individuals who are capable and prepared to make judgments on the applicant's ability to complete graduate studies. Undergraduate faculty and advisors are the best sources. Character references are acceptable, but at least one letter should be from an individual in higher education. If undergraduate work was completed a number of years ago, this may be a difficult request; therefore, discretion should be used when selecting one’s references.

Bachelor's Degree in Discipline/Related Discipline: All applicants must present credentials that are the equivalent of the appropriate baccalaureate degree at Temple University.

Statement of Goals: 500 words in length, including:

- Academic/professional goals
- Personal strengths that will contribute to success in the graduate program
- Personal weaknesses that may inhibit success in the program

Standardized Test Scores:

- GRE, GMAT, or MAT: Minimum scores at or above the 50% range required for admission consideration; however, on average, applicant scores are in the range of 65% and above

- TOEFL score: 79 iBT or 550 PBT minimum

- IELTS Academic score: 6.5 minimum

Resume: Current resume required

Transfer Credit: Graduate credits from an accredited institution may be transferred into the program. The credits must be equivalent to coursework offered at Temple University, and the grade must be a “B” or better in order to transfer. The maximum number of credits a student may transfer is 6.

Culminating Event:

Tourism and Hospitality Management Consulting Project:
STHM 5317 Tourism and Hospitality Management Consulting Project is designed as a capstone experience to enable M.T.H.M. students in their final term to work in consulting teams analyzing real tourism and hospitality business problems and recommending appropriate actions for client organizations in the greater Philadelphia region. In teams of three to five, students emphasize their critical and creative thinking that they have developed as a result of participating in the M.T.H.M. program to enable effective problem identification with a solution orientation. Teams develop a written report that provides an analysis of the current situation, recommended solutions, and a detailed implementation plan. A formal presentation of the report to the client organization is also required. Strong emphasis is placed on developing consulting skills that augment the discipline-specific content reflected in other courses.
