

Educational and Organizational Leadership MEd

About the Program

The MEd degree in Educational and Organizational Leadership is grounded in the social justice mission of the College of Education and Human Development. Consequently, the curriculum is uniquely focused on urban schooling, school leadership, urban education in the broader community, and the policies that impact schools and schooling in urban centers. Students will be prepared for school leadership roles and may elect to complete 6 additional credits of coursework required to partially fulfill the requirements of an approved course of study for a Pennsylvania certification as Principal or Supervisor of Curriculum and Instruction.

Time Limit for Degree Completion: 5 years

Campus Location: Main

Full-Time/Part-Time Status: The degree program can be completed on a full- or part-time basis.

Job Prospects: The MEd degree in Educational and Organizational Leadership prepares students for positions of leadership in school settings, particularly in urban schools.

Non-Matriculated Student Policy: Students may take up to, but not more than, 9 credits of graduate study in the program before being admitted to the program. The credits transfer into the program, if the student is admitted. Students completing non-matriculated courses before being admitted to the program are NOT guaranteed admission.

Financing Opportunities: Financial support opportunities may include scholarships, tuition remission, and other financial aid such as grants, loans and federal work study.

Admission Requirements and Deadlines

Application Deadline:

Fall: March 1

Spring: November 1

Applicants should submit all required admissions documents by the application deadline to receive priority consideration for admission and financial support.
