About the Program

The MS in Business Analytics degree, a STEM-certified program, enables graduates to effectively use data and models to support identification and evaluation of opportunities and improve decision-making.

The Business Analytics MS leverages the ever-increasing volume and importance of data as a strategic asset for organizations. Graduates enhance their managerial skillset and improve decision-making through analytics. The curriculum supports student development of advanced skills and techniques that can be applied to discipline-specific and general business problems. The MS program ensures graduates are prepared to meet the growing demand for talent in the areas of managing, analyzing, predicting and discovering insights from complex data available to modern corporations.

1

BA 5687 may be waived based on prior academic or professional preparation. Students should consult with the Academic Director.

2

Two courses are required. Students should pursue a combination of electives that supports their educational and career goals. Note that in all cases, students are responsible for completing prerequisites. They are also encouraged to consult with the Academic Director or advisor when making their course selections. Alternate courses may be taken with permission from the Academic Director.

3

Permission from the Academic Director is required to enroll in BA 5685 Internship or Externship in Business as an elective. This permission, however, does not guarantee that the course will fulfill the capstone requirement. The Academic Director must grant a second permission for BA 5685 to count for the capstone.

Culminating Event:

Capstone Course:

All students in the Business Analytics MS program participate in a capstone experience that is designed to integrate real-world problems into the curriculum. Students may choose between BA 5685 Internship or Externship in Business and STAT 5651 Capstone in Analytics. For STAT 5651, a sponsoring corporation provides a problem and real data, and students divide into teams to work on the problem. At the end of the term, the top several groups as judged by professors present to the program’s advisory board and other corporate judges.
