

Taxation LLM

BEASLEY SCHOOL OF LAW

About the Program

The Master of Laws in Taxation program trains lawyers who aim to specialize in tax practice. It offers a diverse curriculum that allows students to shape their education based on their aspirations, whether they involve business planning and compliance, employee benefits, estate planning, international tax or tax controversy. Professors are top-flight academics and practitioners who give the law context. Focus is on skills training, both inside the classroom and out, through real-world simulations, practicums and volunteer opportunities.

Beyond offering a first-rate education, the LLM in Taxation program is exceptionally affordable and convenient. Tuition is among the lowest in the country. Students take classes on their own schedule at Temple's Main campus, Center City campus or remotely.

Time Limit for Degree Completion: 4 years following initial enrollment

Campus Location: Main or Center City, with some courses offered online

Full-Time/Part-Time Status: The degree program can be completed on a full- or part-time basis.

Interdisciplinary Study: Temple Juris Doctor (JD) students have the opportunity to earn an LLM in Taxation in as little as one additional semester of study and pay no additional tuition for LLM courses taken while earning their JD degree. All students can receive continuing legal education credits for the course credits they earn.

Job Prospects: Graduates are employed or gain employment at accounting firms; banks; federal, state and local governments; in-house tax departments of businesses; law firms; trust companies; and wealth management companies. They also start their own firms.

Non-Matriculated Student Policy: Non-matriculated enrollment by the general public is not permitted. Alumni of the Graduate Tax Program are permitted to re-enroll with the Beasley School of Law as non-matriculated students to audit taxation-specific courses at the current Graduate Tax Program tuition rate.

Financing Opportunities: Tuition and cost information is available at <https://law.temple.edu/about/tuition/>.
